The Power of

TELLING HER STORY

“We are the Women who Defied the Odds”

Women have always been a force to be reckoned with throughout history, and yet their stories are often left untold or forgotten. From warriors and revolutionaries to inventors and scientists, women have defied societal conventions and made invaluable contributions in every field imaginable. This talk will explore the amazing achievements of women throughout the ages and how their courage, creativity, and resilience can still teach us lessons today.

Learning Outcomes

- Be able to speak to the achievements and contributions made by women throughout history.
- Learn strategies for connecting with our own histories and exploring our family.
- Walk away with three techniques to help you use family history as a source of strength, wisdom, and empowerment.

SPEAKER

DOMINIQUE LUSTER

Archivist | Researcher | Storyteller
The Luster Company

Dominique is a professional archivist and has been working in the cultural heritage and memory work field for nearly 10 years. She has come to understand that history is not merely a listing of events in chronological order. But rather a meticulously curated phenomenon of power.

Burnout Proof

YOUR CAREER PLAN

Do you feel like you are running on a treadmill at work? Like you can't catch your breath and are on the verge of burning out?

After personally experiencing the physical, mental, and emotional effects of burnout, I am passionate about helping women avoid it altogether if possible. I want to help them heal their patterns of perfectionism, self-doubt, people pleasing, and more, so they can continue their journey to a successful career without further sacrificing their health and happiness.

I share real world examples that you can use to reduce stress personally and professionally. .

Along with the 90-minute workshop recording, you will also receive a Burnout Proof Career Plan Workbook so you can take notes during the session and a copy of Jen's Book Brave Women at Work.

Your Career Path

RE-IMAGINED

Own Your EPIC Future:
Workshop on Power and Purpose

For decades, committed companies have been working on keeping talented women on the road to success. Progress has been slower than anyone wants -made worse by the pandemic as well as public policies that don't encourage and support women to simultaneously be the leaders they long to be, at home, at work, and in the world. This comes at a time when, more than ever, we need courageous leaders to draw upon their unique gifts, build their own authentic path, and use their power honorably, wisely, and generously to create a world that works for everyone. A growing proportion of these leaders will be women.

Carolyn will design and facilitate a 2 hour in-person or virtual workshop for your women professionals based on her proprietary Decade Game® coaching framework that will allow them to learn the following:

- What is holding you back – personally and institutionally?
- Design what "winning" could look like, at home, work and in the world? Identify the ways you play "not to lose" instead of playing to win. Think like a great game designer and futurist.

SPEAKER

CAROLYN BUCK LUCE

Inventor of The Decade Game® | co-founder Imaginal Labs LLC

For almost 5 decades as a diplomat, banker, management consultant and executive coach – as well as wife, mother and grandmother, Carolyn has successfully navigated a man's world and created her life by design, not default – decade by decade.
